Als er sich rasierte, ...	When he shaved ...
Als Karl sich rasierte, ...	When Karl shaved ...
Als sich Karl rasierte, ...

c Separable reflexive verbs follow both the rules above:

Während du dich	While you are changing, ...
umziehst , ...
Während sich Marion	While Marion is changing, ... umzieht , ...

■ 36.3.3 Other elements

The position of other elements in the clause is the same as in main clauses (36.1.3–5), except that they are always placed between the subject and the verb.

■ 36.3.4 Exceptions

a Indirect speech clauses without the conjunction dass follow the pattern of main clause statements (36.1):

Sie sagte, sie sei einsam.	She said she was lonely.
Er meint, sie kommen	He reckons they'll come at
um 14.00 Uhr.	2 p.m.

b Conditional clauses (35.2.4) without conjunctions and hypothetical comparative clauses with als, where ob is omitted, follow the inversion pattern of questions and commands (36.2):

Hätten wir mehr Geld, so	If we had more money we
würden wir ein Haus	would buy a house. kaufen.
Er verhält sich, als sei er	He behaves as if he were the
der Chef.	boss.

This index lists key words in German and English as well as grammatical terms. Many references are included under several different headings. For example:

- you can locate information on the German definite article by looking up 'articles, definite', 'definite article' or 'der, die, das';
- you can find out whether a verb forms its perfect tense with sein by referring to 'perfect tense', 'tenses' or 'sein';
- you can check the comparative form of the adjective gut by looking up 'gut', or by looking under 'adjectives, comparative' or 'comparative adjectives/adverbs'.
